ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORTS.

Latest from Europe.

SANDY HOOK, Nov. 12.—The steamship City of Washington, from Liverpool on the 1st and Queenstown on the 2nd inst., has arrived.

It is said that Spain intends taking energetic measures for the suppression of the Slave-trade.

LIVERPOOL, Nov. 1, 9 a. m.—Cotton declined one penny, closing with an upward tendency. The sales for three days amounted to sixteen thousand bales. Breadstuffs were firm; wheat a trifle higher. Petroleum steady at 2s. 11d. for refined. Provisions steady. Produce quiet and steady.

The Liverpool Markets were closed on Tuesday.

LONDON, Nov. 2d.—Consols for money 88¾ to 89; U. S. five twenties 63½ to 64.

LIVERPOOL, Tuesday night.—The regular market since the steamship Cuba sailed exhibited Breadstuffs still advancing; wheat firmer; provisions scarce—all kinds advanced. Bacon quiet and steady. Sugar quiet. Coffee steady. Rice firm and inactive. Rosin dull. Turpentine flat.

There is still no official information concerning ministerial arrangements. Lord Clarendon has been fixed upon beyond doubt as the head of foreign affairs.

The London Globe claims forbearance for the reconstructed ministry until the members are enabled to lay before Parliament their programme, upon the satisfactory character of which, it is argued, the existence of the new arrangements will depend.

The British government had ordered all restrictions on American vessels of war to be removed.

LATEST VIA LIVERPOOL.

The Paris correspondent of the London Times says it is generally reported in Paris that the French army in Mexico will be withdrawn by regular instalments to be completed by next August or September, the whole force will be returned to France. This determination is said to have been induced not only from a desire to offer no reasonable ground for complaint on the part of the United States, but also on economic grounds.

VERY LATEST MARKETS.

LIVERPOOL, Nov. 2.—The cotton sales for the past two days amount to 12,000 bales at a decline of one-eighth per pound, the market closing with an upward tendency for American. Sales of five thousand bales to exporters and speculators were effected at apparently a decline of two pence on common, viz: one pence on Monday and one pence on Wednesday and Thursday.

Special Session of the Louisiana Legislature.

NEW ORLEANS Nov. 11.—Gov. Wells has issued a proclamation, calling for a special session of the Legislature on the 23rd inst., on the plea that the interests of Louisiana demand the presence of her U. S. Senators at next session of Congress.

The Election in Alabama.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., November 9.—Robert M. Patton, the nominee of the State Convention, has been elected Governor.

C. Langdon, of Mobile, has been elected to Congress from the First District, Major George C. Freeman from the Second, General Cullen A Battle from the Third. None of them can take the test oath.

Still Later from Europe.

SMITHER POINT, Nov. 13.—The steamship Bohemian with Liverpool advices to the 3rd inst., arrived here to-day at 3 p. m.

The brokers circular reports sales of cotton for the week preceding her sailing at fifty-one thousand bales, including sixteen thousand to speculators and fifteen thousand to exporters. The market was firm and all quotations advancing in the early part of the week, but subsequently becomes very dull under the Persia's advices from America, and closed one pence to one and a half lower for American and Egyptian brands.

The authorized quotations are: Fair Orleans 23 pence; Middling Orleans 23½; Middling Mobile and Texas 20½; Fair Uplands 20½; Middling Uplands 20½.

The sales of Friday are stated at 10,000 bales, the market closing steady, with better feeling.—The stock on hand is estimated at 333,000 bales, of which 64,000 are American. The market inactive.

U. S. five-twenties 63 3-8 to 63 3-4.

The other news by this arrival is unimportant.

New York Markets.

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—Cotton has a declining tendency, being two cents lower than previous quotations. Sales of the day reached eighty-five hundred and fifty-one bales.

Flour is steady, with sales of 10,000 barrels.—Wheat advanced one to two cents—sales of 78,000 bushels. Corn advancing. Pork heavy. Lard quiet. Whiskey dull at $2.46 per gallon. Naval stores quiet. Freights dull. Cold 47½ premium.

RUMORS UNFAVORABLE TO THE FREEDMEN.—A late Norfolk paper says:

Major General Torbert, Military commander of this district, has, with commendable promptness, determined to make an immediate and careful investigation relative to the rumored secret proceedings among the colored population of the surrounding country, and especially in the county of Princess Anne. If secret meetings are held for any improper object, they will be dispersed and no longer allowed, and the ring-leaders punished. It is intended that necessary precautions shall be taken to allay all fears of trouble and restore the minds of the people to a state of confidence and truthfulness, with regard to the class of persons of whose future conduct there seems to be at present, some well grounded cause of suspicion and misgiving.

—THE WAY TO THE POOR HOUSE.—John Reeve was once accosted on the Kensington road by an elderly gentleman, who carried a bottle of gin in his hand.

"Pray, sir, I beg pardon," he said, "is this the way to the poor house?"

John gave him a look of clerical dignity, and, pointing to the bottle, said:

"No, but that is."

WIRZ.

PARTICULARS OF HIS EXECUTION.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10, 1865.

This morning Father Boyle administered the sacrament to Captain Wirz, and Father Wigget then placed upon the prisoner the black cambric robe, remarking as he did so, "I hope this will be turned into a white one in the other world."

At twenty minutes past ten o'clock Captain Wirz came from his cell in the Old Capitol Prison, accompanied by Provost Marshal Russel and other officers, and by Fathers Boyle and Wigget, and, passing between the military guard, they ascended the scaffold.

The prisoner was then seated.

The guard consisted of the 195th Pennsylvania Volunteers and three detachments of the Veteran Reserve Corps, under the command of Capt. Walbridge, military superintendent of the Old Capitol Prison.

There were several hundred spectators besides the military, civilians having been admitted on special passes.

Amid profound silence, Provost Marshal Russel proceeded to read the order of the War Department, founded on the verdict of the court martial which tried the prisoner.

The prisoner was charged and convicted of combining, confederating and conspiring with Jefferson Davis, J. A. Seddon, Howell Cobb, John H. Winder, Richard B. Winder, Isaiah White, W. S. Winder, W. Shelby Reed, R. R. Stevenson, S. P. Moore, — Kerr, late Hospital Steward at Andersonville, James Duncan, Wesley W. Turner, Benjamin Harris, and others whose names are unknown, and who were then engaged in armed rebellion against the United States, maliciously, traitorously and in violating the laws of war to impair and injure the health and to destroy the lives by subjecting to torture and great suffering by confining in unhealthy and unwholesome quarters, by exposing to the inclemency of winter and to the dews and burning sun of summer, by compelling the use of impure water, and by furnishing insufficient and unwholesome food, of large numbers of Federal prisoners, to wit: The number of about 45,000 held as prisoners of war at Andersonville, within the lines of the so called Confederacy, on or before the 27th of March, 1864, and at divers times between that day and the 10th day of April, 1865, to the end that the armies of the United States might be weakened and impaired, and that the insurgents engaged in said rebellion might be aided and comforted, etc.

The order also states that the prisoner was found guilty of the second charge, namely, Murder, in violation of the laws and customs of war, and guilty of all the specifications excepting the 4th, 10th and 13th.

The order concludes as follows:

Sentence.—And the court do therefore sentence him, Henry Wirz, to be hanged by the neck until he be dead, at such time and place as the President of the United States may direct, two-thirds of the members of the court concurring therein.

And the court also find the prisoner, Henry Wirz, guilty of having caused the death, in the manner as alleged in specification 11, by means of dogs, of three prisoners of war in his custody, and soldiers of the United States, one occurring on or about the 15th day of May, 1864; another occurring on or about the 11th day of July, 1864; another occurring on or about the 1st day of September, 1864, but which findings as here expressed, has not, and did not enter into the sentence of the Court as before given.

Second: The proceeding, finding and sentence in the foregoing case having been submitted to the President of the United States, the following are his orders:

EXECUTIVE MANSION, Nov. 8, 1865.

The proceedings, findings and sentence of the court in the within case are approved, and it is ordered that the sentence be carried into execution by the officer commanding the Department of Washington, on Friday, the tenth day of Nov. 1865, between the hours of 6 o'clock in the morning and 12 o'clock noon. ANDREW JOHNSON,

President of the United States.

Third: Major General C. C Augur, commanding the Department of Washington, is commanded to cause the foregoing sentence, in the case of Henry Wirz to be duly executed in accordance with the President's order.

Fourth: The Military Commission, of which Major Gen. Lewis Wallace, United States Volunteers, is President, is hereby dissolved, by command of the President of the United States.

E. D. TOWNSEND, A. A. G.

When the reading of the order was completed Wirz conversed with those on the platform with seeming calmness and self-possession, and it was remarked that he had a smiling countenance. To his spiritual advisers he said: "I am innocent. I have to die; but I can die like a man. I have hope in the future. I have nothing more to say."

His legs and hands were tied, the noose passed around his neck, and the black cap placed over his face. He stood erect without faltering, evidently having nerved himself for the solemn event. Those on the platform retired to the railing, leaving the doomed man in the centre of the structure.

After a few moments of profound quiet, the drop, at a preconcerted signal, fell. The sound thus occasioned having reached the ears of the promiscuous crowd outside of the Old Capitol Grounds, but who were not privileged to view the execution, was responded to by repeated shouts of approbation.

The convict, directly after falling, was considerably convulsed in his legs, but the agony was soon over. He hung about fifteen minutes and then was cut down. His body was laid upon a stretcher and conveyed to the prison, where it was placed in a coffin and transferred to Father Boiye for interment. His neck was broken by the fall. All the proceedings occupied about three-fourths of an hour.

—Governor Humphreys, of Mississippi, calls upon the citizens of that State to organize companies to aid the civil authorities in maintaining order, and cautions them against oppressing the freedmen. Colonel Fullerton, of the Freedmen's Bureau, had also issued a circular reminding freedmen that the time is approaching to make contracts for labor for another year. Many planters had adopted the system of paying the freedmen for picking cotton every night with success, the freedmen refusing to work without it.

—The Norfolk Roanoke House folks, a few days since, hearing of the whereabouts of a guest who had decamped without going through the usual formality of paying his bill, sent him a note: "Mr. ——, Dear Sir Will send amount of your bill, and oblige," etc. To which the delinquent made answer: "The amount is $30 72½. Yours respectfully."

THE CITY.

☞ Persons in city and country are requested, at all times, to furnish us verbal or written information of any events of public interest which may transpire in their neighborhoods, or of which they may have knowledge.

A CHANCE.—The late fire, which swept away an entire block of frame buildings, should induce one or more of our capitalists to buy the land as a site for a city hall. By municipal regulation, we believe, the erection of frame buildings in this ward is prohibited. There is no disputing the fact that we greatly need a hall for public meetings, amusements, and other uses. We doubt whether any channel into which capital could be thrown would yield better revenues than the enterprise we have named. If the building was made three stories, it would give us half a dozen splendid stores on a line with the street, while above we should a hall capable, in connection with a centre and side galleries, of seating from fifteen hundred to two thousand people. In this estimate, we make adequate allowance for stage room and other space requisite for a hall where histrionic, panoramic and other exhibitions could be made. Such edifices pay handsomely elsewhere and we see no earthly reason why a contrary result should be reached in Raleigh.

BUSINESS NOTICE.—Having to pay cash for everything in the management of our business, we must do a cash business or none at all. Many of our city subscribers are in arrears and we have sent our bills until we are tired of it. We now give fair notice that the paper will be stopped in all cases where the subscription is not paid when presented. Persons at a distance, if of the class mentioned, must remit money to pay the subscription or their paper will be discontinued.

All persons indebted to the Progress office or the proprietor, by note or open account, are requested to settle the same at once.

A PRETTY COMPLIMENT.—The Richmond Enquirer, in an interesting article on the literary men and women of the South, there whereabouts during the war and now, pays the annexed compliment to Mrs. Mary Bayard Clarke:

"'Tenella' second to none of the female poets of the South, is at her father's residence in North Carolina. A Raleigh paper announces that a volume of her poems, entitled 'Mosses from a Rolling Stone,' will soon appear."

We join our cotemporary in the estimate made of 'Tenella," who besides the book in question, will soon commune with the friends of literature through the columns of the Southern Field and Fireside. She has already begun her labors on that weekly literary in an editorial connection.

NEW PAPER.—G. A. Sykes & Co. have issued a prospectus for the early issue at Norfolk of a new paper, to be called the "Virginian." The proprietors are practical men, of large experience in the newspaper business, and have associated with them in the editorial department our friend, James Barron Hope, a gentleman extensively known in the world of mind. Mr. S. formerly resided in Raleigh and will be remembered by many of our citizens. A cordial support is promised the administration of President Johnson and we wish the enterprise success. Subscription to the daily $8 per annum.

ANOTHER OUTRAGE.—We have it upon the best authority that on Friday last two negroes met a Miss Jeffreys, another lady and a freed woman, in the road and only a few miles from this city, who made the females dismount, when the two daring rascals took possession of horse, saddle and bridle, riding off without so much as "thank you." It is evident their was the only object of the sable men of the road, as they offered no indignity to the ladies in any form except that stated.

MAIL ROBBED.—A letter received in this city yesterday from Fayetteville, dated 10th inst., furnishes information of the robbery of the mail on the previous night, the killing of the driver and wounding of another person. The writer does not say whether or not the perpetrators of the heinous offence had been arrested.

From the same source we gather that only three precincts of Cumberland county had been heard from—Fayetteville, Rock Fish and Seventy-first—giving Holden an aggregate of 199 and Worth 170.

IN BAD CONDITION.—Several citizens have called our attention to the miserable sanitary condition of the lots in rear of the court-house. We know from observation as well as the sense of smelling that an indefinite quantity of lime might be used in that locality with advantage. Nothing but the severity of winter will shield the people in that vicinity from cholera, unless the proper authorities resolve to abate the nuisance.

PIANO TUNING.—There are a large number of pianos in the city which require tuning; we know this from hearing; and those who have instruments are referred to the advertisement of Mr. William R. Vaughan, who is ready to bring them up to the notch of harmony.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.—We ask attention to the following:

J. Kinsey—To the Ladies.

Mrs. C. E. Louges—Administratrix Sale.

B. P. Williamson & Co.—Auction Sale.

W. B. Smith & Co.—"Nameless," Mrs. Fanny Murdaugh Downing's new novel.

MR. P. MCGOWAN announces himself a candidate for the principal doorkeepership of the Senate at its approaching session.

CARDS, Circulars, Handbills, Programs, &c. printed at the Progress Job Office cheaper, by twenty-five per cent, than elsewhere. If those who have printing to do will give us a call, we will satisfy them of the fact.

A NOVEL WANT.—A firm in this city advertises for "Confederate States" bonds. If it is lawful to trade in the article, we should think any quantity of them might be had.

—The Cleveland (Ohio) Plaindealer states that a negro in that place was lately summoned to sit as a juryman in an important case. The white jurors, some of whom had voted the negro suffrage ticket, refused to take their seats with him, and it was not until after a couple of hours spent in quibbling and disputing that the judge discharged the negro and summoned a white man in his place.

—The Governor of Michigan has appointed the 7th of December for thanksgiving. In New York, Pennsylvania, and Michigan the State appointments have now been made to coincide with the President's proclamation announcing that day for one of national thanksgiving.

—It is officially stated from rolls in possession of Government, that General Lee's army at its surrender numbered 28,000 men and Johnston's 37,000.

DAILY PROGRESS.

RALEIGH. N C.

TUESDAY, NOV. 14, 1865.

The Election Returns.

For the want of mails the returns reach us very slowly. Over thirty counties, nearly one-half the State, heard from, gives Worth 4,866 majority, and while the fifty odd counties to hear from will certainly reduce that majority, it is not thought it will be overcome. We look on the defeat of Gov. Holden as a great calamity, and such, we think, those who were so zealous to accomplish the result will regard it in less than a twelvemonth. If the government does not deem the people of North Carolina sufficiently loyal to be received back into the Union, those who control it will hardly recognize the election just held as valid. Gov. Holden has done much to bring about a reconciliation between the government and the people of North Carolina, and for the leniency shown us and the favors received we are largely indebted to him; but had he secured the endorsement of the people of the State at the polls, he could have done much more for us at Washington, for the reason that those who administer the government would have looked on his election as a loyal expression by the people of the State and would have been more disposed to leniency. Universal loyalty may come with the next generation, but we who live in this will never see it.

In this the metropolitan Congressional district, Josiah Turner, Esq., has been elected to Congress over Col. J. P. H. Russ, the latter a supporter of Mr. Holden in 1864, and an ultra Union man. Mr. Turner was a member of the so-called Confederate Congress and has not been pardoned. He will get his seat in the National Congress about the time the last of the Jews return to Jerusalem. We suppose that intelligent men who voted for Mr. Turner did not desire to be represented in the old Congress, their predilections being rather in favor of the new or Richmond dynasty—that was, so-called, but is not, and never will be again.

In the 2d district C. C. Clark, Esq., a gentleman of ability and a supporter of Bell and Everett in 1860, is no doubt elected, though we have not full returns from the district. Mr. Lehman, the opponent of Mr. Clark, could have taken the oath had he been elected, never having taken part in the war, but Mr. Clark will not be able to take it, he having been, for a short time, in the Confederate service, and having served in the State Legislature.

We have not sufficient returns from the other districts to form any conclusions; in fact we do not know even who are the candidates in some of them, but we think we can safely assert that not a man has been elected who can take the oath. What all this will amount to it is impossible to tell, but we think the people of the State, the majority of whom, it seems, delight in an opportunity to vote against ultra Union men, will find, after Congress meets, that a good deal more is to be done before they have a representation at Washington and civil law at home.

Negro Testimony.

The Tennessee Legislature has a bill before it providing for the admission of negro testimony in the courts of that State.

Relative to the bill, the Nashville Union says:

"The Legislature is making haste slowly with the negro testimony bill. We trust that it will become a law before the meeting of Congress. Let Tennessee, if no other Southern State does so, appear in Washington with a clean balance sheet."

We have no doubt but the people of the South will have to yield their prejudices in this matter of allowing the blacks to testify, and admit them to give evidence in the courts of justice before the States will be admitted to the Union. Such is the general impression at Washington city and throughout the North, among men in office and out of office, and such is believed to be the settled policy of the Government. The impression is generally concurred in that no State will be admitted to a representation in Congress until their people shall, through their Legislatures or Conventions, have ratified the Constitutional amendment and admitted the blacks to the witness stand.

We confess that we have overcome our own prejudices on the subject of negro testimony, and that our mind has undergone a change. If the blacks, as free persons, are to be allowed to make contracts and are to be held responsible for contracts, our laws must give them protection in the courts. They must be allowed to testify, and to bring persons of their own color to testify, or in actions at law between persons representing the two races, all would be one-sided. Many white persons are allowed to testify in whose testimony neither judge or jury have any confidence, but the evidence is taken for what it is worth; and so it would be with the blacks in the event they should be admitted to the witness stand. The testimony of the negro of character and integrity would be believed and have weight, while the evidence of the depraved and vicious person of color would be set aside. We cannot see how the superior race would be injured by the admission of negro testimony, and then the concession would spike the pivot gun of the agitators.

If it be necessary to prepare ourselves for admission to the Union, and for civil law and civil rule to admit negro testimony and ratify the Constitutional amendment, as we believe it is, we say let it be done. We should concede the right of the negro to testify, not only as a matter of policy, but as a matter of justice, for the changed condition of things will subject him to innumerable wrongs at the hands of bad men until this right is conceded him. We know that the position we are taking on this subject is not a popular one, and that it will subject us to denunciation and abuse, but we know also that we are actuated by honest convictions and a desire to restore order, civil rule and prosperity to this distressed people. Some of our leading statesmen, and much of the best talent of the State, will be in the Legislature soon to assemble, and we trust that they will have the moral courage to discard prejudice and perform their duty to the State and country.

The United States Navy.

Uncle Sam now has a navy that will command the respect of John Bull, or any other man.—Since the ending of the war the Navy Department has exhibited great activity in fitting out vessels for service in foreign waters. In the Mediterranean there are now six vessels, carrying in all seventy-three guns. Besides these are four now fitting out and almost ready, with an aggregate of forty-seven guns. There are in the Brazilian squadron six vessels, carrying sixty guns in all, and there are one or two vessels nearly ready to start. The East Inda squadron is composed of three vessels and thirty-seven guns. There are now in the waters of the Pacific twenty vessels and two hundred and twenty guns. On the Atlantic coast are seven vessels, with an aggregate of sixty-three guns, besides several light-draught steamers for navigating shallow rivers. In the Gulf squadron there are thirteen vessels, carrying in all ninety-six guns. In the Mississippi we have six vessels, besides a number of iron clads at Mound City, Ill. There are eleven vessels belonging to the practice squadron at Annopolis, Maryland, and twenty-two vessels that are used as transports, receiving ships, and in other duties. The total number of guns is one thousand one hundred and fifteen, which gives an average of eleven guns to each vessel.

The Test Oath.

We long since expressed the opinion that no one would be admitted to a seat in Congress without taking the oath of 1862, known as the test oath, and as the time for the assembling of Congress approaches we are only the more confirmed in our convictions.

Speaking of the necessity for the enforcement of the oath, the Nashville Union says:

"Some of the newspapers, and a number of candidates for Congress in the Southern States, profess to believe that Congress will repeal the test oath, and that, therefore, it is unnecessary to discard men who cannot take it. Those who entertain such opinions are, we are convinced, much mistaken. It is not probable that Congress will make any change whatever in the oath of office. Members elect who reject it, might as well remain at home.—They will not be admitted. The fact is, the oath is proper, and ought to be retained for some years to come; at least, until the Southern people change their notions respecting Southern men who have been true to the Union, and turn their backs upon candidates for office who see in an honest-hearted loyalist, and opponents of secession and treason, only a "black-hearted tory." It is one of the rankest of offenses, in the estimation of too many of the Southern people, to have consistently adhered to the cause of the National Government. There must be a reformation, in this respect, before the doors of the National Legislature are opened to the representatives of the rebel States. If the Congressional oath can do nothing towards affecting this reformation, it can, at least, keep Congress clear of men who regard loyalty as a crime."

"NEW-ORLEANS, Nov. 7.

We owe to the perfect administration of the government the most orderly election ever known in New-Orleans. The Johnson policy, as represented by Wells, is triumphant by an overwhelming majority of over 6,000 in the city. The remainder of the State will follow in the same track."

South Carolina.

The following message of Gov. Perry, of South Carolina, embodying dispatches from President Johnson and Secretary Seward, will be read with interest, as in the dispatches referred to certain conditions are laid down that must be complied with before any of the seceded States can return to the Union:

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
South Carolina, November 7, 1865.

To the Honorable the Senate and House of Representatives.

GENTLEMEN: I had the honor of receiving from the President of the United States, the following telegraphic dispatch, on the 28th of October last:

"To B. F. Perry, Provisional Governor:

"Your last two despatches have been received and the pardons suggested have been ordered.

"I hope that your Legislature will have no hesitation in adopting the amendment to the Constitution of the United States, abolishing slavery. It will, no doubt, be followed by the other States and place South Carolina in a most favourable attitude before the nation. I trust in God that it will be done.—The nation and State will then be left free and untrammelled to take that course which sound policy, wisdom and humanity may suggest.

"ANDREW JOHNSON,
"President U. S."

Three days afterwards I received the following telegram from the President, dated

WASHINGTON, October 31, 1865.

"To B. F. Perry, Provisional Governor:

"There is a deep interest felt as to what course the Legislature will take in regard to the adoption of the amendment to the Constitution of the United States, abolishing slavery, and the assumption of the debt created to aid in the rebellion against the Government of the United States. If the action of the Convention was in good faith, why hesitate in making it a part of the Constitution of the United States? I trust in God that the restoration of the Union will not be defeated, and all that has, so far, been well done, thrown away! I still have faith that all will come out right yet. This opportunity ought to be understood and appreciated by the people of the Southern States. If I know my own heart, and every passion which enters it, is to restore the blessings of the Union and tie up and heal every bleeding wound which has been caused by this fratricidal war. Let us be guided by love and wisdom from on high, and union and peace will once more reign throughout the land.

"ANDREW JOHNSON."

To these telegraphic despatches, I replied that the war debt of South Carolina was very inconsiderable; that our whole State debt, at this time, was only about 6,000,000; that this was mostly incurred, anterior to the war, in constructing railroads and building a new State house, with an old debt of long standing; that we had assumed no portion of the Confederate debt and were responsible in no way for it. The expenditures which the State had incurred up to a certain period had all been settled and refunded by the Confederate States.

I stated that South Carolina had abolished slavery in good faith, and never intended or wished to restore it; that the Legislature was then considering a wise, just and humane system of laws for the government and protection of the freedmen, in all their rights of person and property; and that there was no objection to the adoption of the proposed amendment to the Federal Constitution, except an apprehension that Congress might, under the second section of that amendment, claim the right to legislate for the negro after slavery was abolished. I likewise stated, that no official notice had ever been received by the Legislature, of the proposed amendment to the Constitution of the United States.

In reply to this despatch, I received, yesterday, the following telegram from the Secretary of State, dated

"WASHINGTON, November 6, 1865.

"To His Excellency B. F. Perry, Provisional Governor of South Carolina:

"Your despatch to the President, of November 4, has been received. He is not entirely satisfied with the explanation it contains. He deems necessary the passage of adequate ordinances, declaring all insurrectionary proceedings in the State unlawful and void ab initio.

"Neither the Constitution nor the laws direct official information to the States of amendments to the Constitution submitted by Congress. Notice of the amendment, by Congress, abolishing slavery, was nevertheless sent by the Secretary of State, at the time, to the States which were then in communication with this Government. Formal notice will immediately be given to these States, which were then in insurrection.

"The objection which you mention, to last clause of the Constitutional amendment, is regarded as querulous and unreasonable, because that clause is really restraining in its effects, instead of enlarging the power of Congress.

"The President considers the acceptance of the amendment, by South Carolina, as indispensable to a restoration of her relations with the other States of the Union.

"WM. H. SEWARD."

This formal notice of the proposed amendment to the Constitution of the United States has not yet been received. When it is, I will communicate the same to you. The amendment may be seen in the Acts of the last Congress, and is in these words:

"Neither slavery nor involuntary servitude, except as a punishment for crime, whereof the party shall have been duly convicted, shall exist within the limits of the United States, or any places subject to their jurisdiction.

SEC. 2. Congress shall have power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation."—Approved Feb. 1, 1865.

A few days since I addressed a communication to Mr. Seward, Secretary of State, by mail, in which I repeated and enlarged on the views previously expressed to the President, in reference to the objections which were entertained in South Carolina to the proposed constitutional amendment. I am happy to find that the Secretary of State does not regard these objections as well founded, but considers them "querulous and unreasonable." It is true, that a plain, honest construction of the language of the amendment would be, that slavery was abolished in the United States, and that Congress should simply enforce it. When this was done their legislation would be ended. They could not attempt, under the authority given by this amendment, to pass laws for the government of the "freedmen," in their free state. The Attorney General of the United States and the President have both been understood as concurring in this opinion. It would, therefore, be well, in adopting the proposed amendment, to place on record the construction which had been given to it by the Executive Department of the Federal government.

It is manifest, from the earnest, eloquent and patriotic terms in which the President has urged the adoption of this amendment, that he regards, as he says, "all that South Carolina has done—and so well done—as thrown away, unless the amendment is accepted by the Legislature. The Secretary of State is still more explicit in his language. He says "the President considers the acceptance of the amendment by South Carolina as indispensable to a restoration of her relations with the other States of the Union."—The reason why this exaction is made of the Southern States, after they have abolished slavery, is that they might otherwise, at some future day, change their constitutions and restore slavery, in defiance of the Federal government.

You, gentlemen, have, at this time, the destiny of the State in your hands, and I [illegible] that you will act calmly [illegible] South Carolina, happy [illegible].

I addressed a communication to the Secretary of the Treasury, at Washington, a few days since, urging that, in case the Legislature should assume the payment of that portion of the direct tax for which South Carolina is liable, that the Federal government should remit her bonds for the same, [illegible] and advise the immediate assumption, by the State, of her portion of the direct tax [illegible] 000. This will relieve the people from the immediate payment of it to the Federal tax collectors, and enable the State to make some [illegible] in reference to it with the Treasury Department or Congress.

In my communication to the Secretary of State, I urged the propriety of withdrawing the colored troops from the interior of the State to the forts or sea coast, and requested that white troops might, for the present, be retained in Charleston, Georgetown and Beaufort.

I have forwarded the resolutions you sent me the other day, in reference to the school house in Charleston, to Gen. Howard, and asked that they should be restored to the proper authorities. I made the same request in regard to the Military Hall in Charleston.

Jefferson Davis—The Trial—Positions of the President and the Chief Justice, &c.

The following appears as a special dispatch in the New York World:

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.

It is known that President Johnson has expressed the greatest anxiety to bring to a legal issue the question whether treason is a crime, and whether it can as such be punished. The following from to-day's National Republican, is believed to be substantially correct:

"The President has not only consulted his constitutional advisers, his cabinet and the proper law officers of the government on the subject, but he has also invited to this council some of the most eminent constitutional and criminal lawyers in the land.—Among these may be named Chief-Justice Chase who came here from Ohio some time in August last, at the special invitation of the President to consult on the general subject of trials for treason. Subsequently about the first of October last, President Johnson addressed a letter to Chief-Justice Chase informing him that it might become necessary for the government to prosecute some high crimes and misdemeanors committed against the United States within the District of Virginia, Chief-Justice Chase's circuit, and inquiring whether the Circuit Court of the United States for that district is so far organized and in condition to exercise its functions that the Chief-Justice or either of the associates of the Supreme Court would hold a term of the Circuit Court there during the autumn or early winter, for the trial of causes. About the middle of October Chief-Justice Chase replied to the President. He positively stated that his circuit court for the district of Virginia, either to be presided over by himself or one of his associates, would not hold a term during the autumn or early winter. He stated that the regular term authorized by Congress would commence this year on the 27th of November, the present month, only one week before the annual term of the Supreme Court, when all the judges are required to be present, allowing but one week for the circuit court to sit, which, in the opinion of the Chief-Justice, would be too short a term for the transaction of any important business. But the Chief-Justice adds that were the facts otherwise he too much doubts the propriety of holding circuit courts of the United States in states which have been declared by the executive and legislative departments of the national government to be in rebellion, and therefore would hold to martial law before the complete restoration of broken relations with the nation, and the supremacy of the military by the civil administration. He would be unwilling to hold such courts in States within his district, which includes Virginia, until Congress shall have had an opportunity to consider and act on the whole subject. The Chief-Justice expressed to the President the opinion that a court in a district under martial law can only act by the sanction and under the supervision of the military power, and he positively asserts that he does not think that it becomes the justices of the Supreme Court to exercise jurisdiction under such conditions.

National Republican makes the following significant comments, indicating a change of position toward the radicals. It says:

"Without meaning to be disrespectful to the Chief Justice we sincerely think that such an excuse is not only undignified and uncalled for, but it sounds too much like the copperhead harrangues of the last Presidential campaign against the government. It so the opinion of a mind dissatisfied with the situation, which the President is not to blame. Chief Justice Chase knows very well that the military cannot with safety be withdrawn from Virginia; because of that fact, in order to avoid soiling his ermine by contact with federal bayonets, the Chief Justice proposes to let Jefferson Davis go untried. Such a position would have been consistent with the record of Chief-Justice Chase's predecessor in fugitive-slave days and times. But it reflects no credit upon the present judicial head of the United States Supreme Court."

BURNING OF THE MUSEUM!

LETTER FROM MR. P. T. BARNUM!

NEW YORK, July 14, 1865.

Messrs. Herring & Co.:

GENTLEMEN—Though the destruction of the American Museum has proved a serious loss to myself and the public, I am happy to verify the old adage that "it's an ill wind that blows nobody good," and, consequently, congratulate you that your well-known safes have again demonstrated their superior fire-proof qualities in an ordeal of unusual severity.

The safe you made for me some time ago was in the office of the Museum, on the second floor, back part of the building, and in the hottest of the fire.

After twenty-four hours of trial it was found among the debris, and on opening it this day has yielded up its contents in very good order—books, papers, policies of insurance, bank bills, all in condition for immediate use, and a noble commentary on the trustworthiness of Herring's Fire-Proof Safes.

Truly yours,
P. T. BARNUM.

DAILY PROGRESS.

TUESDAY, NOV. 14, 1865.

A Democratic Leader's Testimony.

An interesting scene took place at the Academy of Music, in Philadelphia, on Thursday evening, when William. L. Hirst, Esq, an eminent member of the Philadelphia bar, and long an honored leader of the Democratic party, presented to the audience the will of General WASHINGTON, and accompanied it with some remarks, emphasizing that portion of this noble testament in which the Father of his Country indicated his profound hostility to human slavery. The will is of sufficient importance to bear a second publication, as follows:

"Upon the decease of my wife, it is my will and desire that all the slaves which I hold in my own right shall receive their freedom. To emancipate them during her life would, though earnestly wished by me, be attended by such insuperable difficulties on account of their intermixture, by marriages, with the dower negroes, as to excite the most painful sensations, if not disagreeable consequences from the latter, while both descriptions are in the occupancy of the same proprietor, it not being in my power, under the tenure by which the dower negroes are held, to manumit them. And whereas, among those who will receive freedom, according to this devise, there may be some who, from old age or bodily infirmities, and others who, on account of their infancy, that will be unable to support themselves, it is my will and desire that all who come under the first and second description shall be comfortably fed and clothed by my heirs while they live; and that such of the latter description as have no parents living, or if living, are unable or unwilling to provide for them, shall be bound by the court until they shall arrive at the age of twenty-five years, ; and in cases where no record can be produced whereby their ages can be ascertained, the judgment of the court upon its own view of the subject shall be adequate and final. The negroes so bound are, by their masters or mistresses, to be taught to read and write and to be brought up to some useful occupation, agreeably to the laws of the commonwealth of Virginia, providing for the support of orphan and other poor children. And I do hereby expressly forbid the sale or transportation out of the said commonwealth of any slave I may die possessed of, under any pretence whatsoever. And I do, moreover, most pointedly and most solemnly enjoin it upon my executors hereafter named, or the survivors of them, to see that this clause respecting slaves, and every part thereof, be religiously fulfilled at the epoch at which it is directed to take place, without evasion, neglect or delay, after the crops which are then in the ground are harvested, particularly as it respects the aged and infirm, seeing that a regular and permanent fund be established for their support so long as they are subjects requiring it, not trusting to the uncertain provisions to be made by individuals."

All the reports about Cabinet discussions over the correspondence between Lord Russell and Mr. Adams are absurd. That correspondence was in the hands of the government for several weeks before it was published, and Mr. Seward had written in reply to Earl Russell's last dispatch at least six weeks ago. It is generally understood that he had informed the English Government that we shall not press the suggestion for arbitration, nor shall we consent to submit any question to the decision of a commission, unless all the claims at issue between the two governments are submitted also. It is probable that Mr. Seward's dispatch was mainly a request to know what topics were intended to come before the commission suggested by Lord Russell, as a necessary preliminary to an acceptance or declination of it.

—The army train, consisting of fifteen hundred and seventy five mules, two hundred and fifty eight wagons, sixty travelling forges, and two ambulances, which left Washington on the 6th of last August under the charge of Major H. H. Mandeville, arrived at Springfield, Illinois on the 31st of October. It was the intention of the War Department, when this train was placed en route for Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, to send it across the plains; but the project has been abandond, and an order issued directing the sale of the mules at auction at Springfield, and the shipment of the vehicles to Fort Leavenworth for transportation service or sale at that pomt.

—There is now a strong probability that the cholera will be confined to the quarantine limits of the Lower bay, in New York. Few or no new cases are reported by the heal h officer. The cool weather of the past week or ten days seems almost providential in arresting the progress of this terrible scourge.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU for non-retention or incontinence of Urine, Irritation, Inflammation, Ulceration of the Bladder, Kidneys, disease of the Prostrate Gland, Stone in the Bladder, Calculus, Gravel or Brick Dust Deposit, and all diseases of the Bladder, Kidneys and Dropsical Swellings.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU FOR WEAKNESS ARISING FROM EXCESSES OR INDISCRETION.

The constitution once affected by Organic Weakness, requires the aid of medicine to strengthen and invigorate the system, which Helmbold's Extract Buchu invariably does. If no treatment be submitted to, consumption or insanity may ensue.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU,

in affections peculiar to females, is unequaled by any other preparation, as in chlorosis or retention, irregularities, painfulness or suppression of customary evacuations, ulceration or scirrhous state of the Uterus, Leucorrhœa, and all complaints incident to the sex, whether arising from habits of dissipation, imprudencies, or in the decline or change of life.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU AND IMPROVED ROSE WASH, will radically exterminate from the system diseases of the urinary organs arising from habits of dissipation, at little expense, little or no change in diet, and no exposure, completely superseding those unpleasant and dangerous remedies, Copaiba and Mercury, in curing those unpleasant and dangerous diseases.

USE HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU

in all cases of the urinary organs, whether existing in male or female, from whatever cause originating, and no matter of how long standing. It is pleasant in taste and odor, immediate in its action, and more strengthening than any of the preparations of bark or iron.

Those suffering from broken down or delicate constitutions, procure the remedy at once.

The reader must be aware that however slight may be the attack of the above disease, it is sure to affect his posterity. Our flesh and blood are supported from these sources.

PHYSICIANS, PLEASE NOTICE!

We make no secret of the ingredients. Helmbold's Fluid Extract Buchu is composed of Buchu, Cubebs and Juniper Berries, selected with great care, and prepared in vacuo by H T HELMBOLD, Druggist and Chemist of sixteen years' experience in the city of Philadelphia, and which is now prescribed by the most eminent physicians, has been admitted to use in the United States army, and is also in very general use in State Hospitals and public Sanitary Institutions throughout the land.
